

Life Hub Windmill Mosaic Creation event (Jun. 5)

Functionality in Daily Life

Life Hub Opened

The Life Hub in TSP opened on September 13, 2007 making life in the dormitory complexes even more convenient. This is the first daily-life oriented facility in a science park that has successfully commissioned internal operations to the private sector according to the “Statute for Promoting Private Participation in Public Construction.” These operations include the third-floor service center, second-floor sky bridge linking the two buildings, and a 125-space parking lot on floors B1 and B2. The Hub currently holds a daycare service, an after school program for students, a variety of shops, an audio-visual room, a club room, an aerobics studio, and a central plaza.

Life Hub Opening Ceremony (Sep. 13)

In its effort to realize its motto, “New Community, Dream Home,” and its goal to become an extension of the home, the Life Hub takes to heart the image of the mosaic windmill created by the children of the STSP. In addition to providing various staple services, the Hub does its best to maintain a platform for interaction among community members by hosting events such as the Community Moon Festival Barbeque, two free bus tours of Cigu Township and Kaohsiung in October, two sessions of arts classes, a performance from the Song Song Song Children's and Puppet Theatre, and parent-child ikebana and model robot assembly events.

STSP Wellness Center

Wellness Center Preparing for Operation

To provide employees with a place to relax, exercise, and have fun in general, a 6.93-hectare sports park with outdoor facilities was constructed in TSP, and also the Wellness Center including a gymnasium, a swimming pool and spa, and a Sport & Fitness Center. Outdoor facilities are already in operation as of 2006, and the Wellness Center are expected to open in April 2008. The Wellness Center is the TSP's multi-purpose destination for rest and relaxation.
